

GERMANS THREATEN ENTIRE YPRES POSITION

Capture of Kemmel Mountain and Dranoutre Admitted By Field Marshal Haig—Battle Continues North of Lys River.

(By Associated Press)

BULLETIN.
BERLIN, April 26. — via London. — "Enemy counter-attacks against Mount Kemmel and in the fighting area south of Villers-Bretonneux failed with heavy losses," says the official statement issued by the war office tonight.

LONDON, April 26. — The Germans have captured Kemmel Mountain and village and also are in possession of Dranoutre, according to the official communication sent by Field Marshal Haig from headquarters in France tonight.

The communication says that north of the Lys river the battle is continuing fiercely along the whole front from the neighborhood of Dranoutre to the Ypres-Comines canal.

The text of the field marshal's report reads:

"North of the Lys river the battle is continuing fiercely on the whole front from the neighborhood of Dranoutre to the Ypres-Comines canal. The enemy has gained possession of Dranoutre, Kemmel village and Mount Kemmel.

"The enemy's attack yesterday was made in great strength by nine German divisions. This morning the French and British troops counter-attacked and succeeded at first in making some progress, capturing a number of prisoners. Later in the day the enemy renewed his attacks directing his assaults with particular insistence against the positions from Loere to LaClytte and astride the Ypres-Comines canal. In the neighborhood of LaClytte and Scherpenberg all the enemy's attacks have been held, but after severe fighting in the course of which a series of determined attacks were repulsed with heavy losses to his troops, he succeeded in pressing our line back in the direction of Loere. On both sides of the Ypres-Comines canal, the enemy also made some progress.

"Early this morning the French and British troops attacked the enemy positions south of the Somme in the neighborhood of Hangard and Hangard wood and have carried their line forward at certain points by heavy fighting.

"On the remainder of the British front the situation remains unchanged."

German Statement.
BERLIN, April 26. — Via London. — The German official communication issued today says:

"The attack by General von Arnim's army against Mount Kemmel led to a complete success. The height itself, looking far into the Flanders plain is in our possession."

"The French divisions entrusted within the radius of the British troops with the defense of Mount Kemmel and English troops adjoining them at Wytshaele and Dranoutre, were thrown out of their positions."

"The large crater of St. Eloi and the place itself was captured. Numerous concrete houses and fortified farms situated in the fighting area were captured."

"Prussian and Bavarian troops took Mount Kemmel and the village by storm. We captured Dranoutre and the height to the north-west of Vleugelhoek."

"Battle squadrons attacked with great success the rear communication roads of the enemy which were crowded with carts and columns of men."

BRITISH FOOD CONTROLLER RESIGNS

London, April 26. — Baron Rhonda, the Daily Mail says it understands, has resigned the office of British food controller which he has held for the past ten months. He has been absent from his post for some weeks owing to illness. John H. Clynes, parliamentary secretary for the food ministry, has been in charge temporarily.

CORRESPONDENTS HAVE THRILLING EXPERIENCES

Annual Report of Associated Press of Great Interest

NEW YORK, April 26. — The report of the board of directors of The Associated Press this year is considered of such unusual interest as to warrant publication. It refers among other things to the experience of some Associated Press men in the foreign service, and in making this part public the board authorized the insertion in parenthesis of the name of the man concerned.

The report follows:

"To the members of The Associated Press: In earlier reports we have endeavored to summarize briefly the most important events of the year. We make no such attempt this year. There have been months during which more epoch-making news has developed than during some previous years, and all newspapers must wonder whether they have not missed some of the standards of news values. Nor do we enlarge in this report upon the news-gathering achievements of the organization. With those achievements have come many inevitable disappointments. Over taxed cables, muddled censorships and similar exigencies of war often have upset our plans and frequently neutralized the resourcefulness of our staff. Yet we have incomparably the most comprehensive machinery for collecting and distributing news that the world has ever known."

"Of our men abroad, we gratefully acknowledge our appreciation. Torpedoes and mines are shot and shell on land and have held no fear for them. Their escapes amid danger have been countless. One (Frank M. America) was knocked down by a Zeppelin bomb in London but worked all that night as usual—merely an incident of the day's work in an office building which has itself been hit by such shells."

Another, (Robert T. Small) fell into the icy Somme but rode thirty five miles to cable the story of the first American in Peronne; another, (Charles T. Thompson) was on the highest rampart of the Castle of Gorizia when a shell buried it and him under earth, but on its aftermath he wrote a story which thrilled the press of Europe as well as of the United States; another, (Walter Whiffen) was shot in the knee on a Russian observation post; another, (Charles S. Smith) after a bayonet and fist encounter at Harbin, escaped with painful lacerations; another, (James Hickey) was blown thru a glass door by the Halifax explosion, but before dressing his wounds, was resourceful enough to find in a demolished building the terminus of the cable to the West Indies and sent by way of Bermuda and Havana to New York the first direct messages out of the battle zone. Incidents are not unusual in the service of your organizations."

"Thru the years, The Associated Press has by maintaining its standards of accurate reporting preserved the best traditions of journalism. The good name of the Associated Press has not been impaired. The public confidence in our dispatches has been steadily growing until millions of readers now hesitate to give credence to many published reports until assured that they were carried by our association."

The sensational Zimmerman note with its report of diplomatic intrigue in Mexico was universally accepted as genuine because the Associated Press said it was. The bombardment of Paris at long range was ridiculed by other press associations and by ordnance experts, but the Paris bureau of the Associated Press which for two days alone reported this startling development of the war to American readers, convinced the official confirmation of its report. When the government's action in taking over the Dutch ships in American harbors was reported in Europe several chancelleries inquired in European capitals whether the Associated Press announced this fact. This reputation for telling the truth on the part of the Associated Press is recognized now quite as generally thruout diplomatic and journalistic circles abroad as it is in the United States, and it is an asset of membership in this organization that is of the utmost value."

"During the last year, the war has naturally drawn heavily on our staff. It has been the policy of the management not only to seek exemption from government service on behalf of its employees, but to encourage such service. Men who a year ago were serving this organization are now by the hundreds in the military or naval or other service of the United States. Our operators in particular, have been able to render valuable service for which their training has peculiarly fitted them. Within a year we have thus lost more than one fourth of our staff, and many more men are soon to leave us."

"In this period of war, as the

SUMMARY OF WAR SITUATION

News of Activities on the Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form by The Associated Press

Kemmel Hill, a height which has been looked upon as the key to the southern side of the Ypres salient and one of the most important strategic positions on the northern battlefield in France has been taken by the Germans. After a defense which will become one of the heroic chapters of the war the hill was surrounded and the French forces entrenched on its slopes were overcome.

Whole Position in Peril
The loss of the hill which is admitted in an official statement by General Delma Radcliffe, chief director of military operations at the British war office brings to the allies a realization that the whole Ypres position is in peril from the German drive northward from the lowlands lying to the west of Armentieres.

Launch Terrific Attack
The Germans launched a terrific attack along the whole Wytshaele-Bailleur-Meteran line Wednesday, apparently for the purpose of finding a point which might yield. They evidently found that spot in the section of the front held jointly by the British and French troops, and against it they hurled fresh divisions which fought their way forward all day Thursday until at night fall they had surrounded Kemmel Hill and isolated the French troops holding the position.

Loss Is Serious
All night long the fight went on and it was not until Friday that the Germans succeeded in storming up the slopes of the height. The loss of Kemmel Hill is serious for it overlooks much of the lowlands lying back of the allied lines in the Ypres salient. The hill is 464 feet in height, rising from lowlands on the south and east. It is six miles southwest of Ypres and three miles west of Wytshaele. This German success cuts a deep notch in the allied line to the southwest of Ypres and completely outflanks the British on the northern slopes of Messines ridge to which they were forced by the German assaults of two weeks ago. The line to the southwest, toward Bailleur, apparently is in no particular danger at present although the village of Dranoutre has been lost to the enemy.

Artillery Duels
At no other points has the enemy advanced, although bitter fighting has been going on in many sectors in both the Somme and Armentieres battle areas. There has been artillery duels at various points along the French front to the south of the Somme. The German tanks sent in to the fight in Villers-Bretonneux acted quite independently of the foot soldiers. Their business apparently was to search out machine gun nests and engage them. The fact that the crews of two of the enemy tanks abandoned them when in trouble would seem to indicate that the personnel is not experienced. Four German tanks came forward with the second attack at about nine o'clock. Only one clash occurred between them and the British tanks. That was against one big British machine and two smaller ones. Both of the latter had been damaged somewhat by the heavy cannonade, but the bigger British machine forced the enemy to retreat and put one of the number out of action. The crew of this German tank fled as that of another which afterward got stuck in the mud. Neither tank, however, was completely smashed and the enemy got them away later. Both the damaged British tanks were saved.

From statements made by prisoners to the correspondent he is able to give an approximate description of the new German tank. It is about 36 feet long, 12 feet high and 12 feet wide. There is a central turret on top and the turret guns are of about 5 1/2 calibers. These tanks also carry about six machine guns which fire from the front, rear and both flanks. The track or caterpillar band upon which the tank runs is driven around by several pairs of wheels. Armored plate gives the whole machine the appearance of a turtle or an inverted basin. The speed of these tanks cross-country is said to be very slow. On the highway it is reported to be much faster. One tank used on Wednesday had the name "Cyclops" painted across the front and another bore the skull and cross bones.

NOTE TO GO ON STRIKE
St. Louis, April 26. — Employees of the St. Louis Car Company numbering approximately 1,000 this afternoon voted to go on a strike at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for an eight hour day, increase in wages and recognition of the union.

French Begin Attack

So important is the possession of Kemmel Hill that the allies must launch counter-attack to recapture it and the French have begun a savage attack on the height. If the Germans continue to hold it and either consolidate their lines or push on, the allies will be at a great disadvantage in future engagements.

Further Assaults

The latest reports from the scene of the battle are that the Germans are attacking on a line from LaClytte to the Ypres-Comines canal. LaClytte is about a mile and a half north of Kemmel Hill and is six and a half miles west of the Ypres-Comines canal which runs almost due south from Ypres.

Other Important Gains

The evident purpose of this attack is to roll up the allied positions south of Ypres and force a retirement from that war-torn town. The position of the Germans is such that only the sternest defense will avail to check their threatening advance. At other points along the battle line the Germans have made important gains. At Villers-Bretonneux the British have held their line and completed the work of clearing out the last German positions on the ground held before the German attack on Wednesday. But Hangard is apparently still in German hands and the Germans have forged ahead just to the north of this village and are now attacking the town of LaClytte. The loss of Hangard would place the Germans in a position to attack the town of LaClytte. Further south, immediately north of Castel, the Germans have penetrated the village of Hailles and are in possession of Hill 82, south of the village. The French have counter-attacked on this front and regained ground.

At no other points has the enemy advanced, although bitter fighting has been going on in many sectors in both the Somme and Armentieres battle areas. Only Four Engaged.

"The German division attacking Cacy was told that four tanks were to support the assault, but these were missing at the appointed hour. Thus eleven tanks had been figured on but only four were actually engaged. The German prisoners state they never had seen the tanks before although they had often heard of them. The greatest secrecy appears to have been maintained by the German high command regarding these engines, so much so that the infantry had not been trained to work with them in their initial appearance. SLAUGHTER IS GREATER THAN FIRST REPORTED

Small British Tanks Wipe Out German Companies

(By Associated Press)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 26. — The slaughter caused by the small British tanks among a concentration of the enemy near Cacy 15 Wednesday's fighting appears to have been even greater than was originally reported. A few of these little engines, which are much faster than the ordinary big tanks, made the assault so quickly on two or three battalions of the enemy's infantry which were coming for an attack that the Germans were unable to scatter before they were fiercely deluged with machine gun bullets. Not only that but a large number of men were caught beneath the tanks and ground into the earth. Prisoners estimate that at least two and probably three German companies were wiped out in a few minutes.

The machines returned in such horrible condition from the shambles that they had to be washed down. One German prisoner had a rough experience with the small tanks and lived to tell the story. Although he was much shaken as a result of his experience, he got separated from his unit and was hiding in a shell hole near Cacy when a tank charged directly over the hole. It was deep enough to protect the German but he was so terrified that he lost consciousness and was just regaining his senses when the performance was repeated by a second tank. Again he escaped and saved himself further trials by being captured. Only four German tanks appear to have been in the action Wednesday Villers-Bretonneux, although numbers of others are rumored to have been assigned to participate in the attack.

The fourth guards division which advanced against the town from the south expected seven tanks to accompany them but three of them did not appear.

FRENCH AND BRITISH BEGIN COUNTER ATTACK

MAN POWER IS GOING TO WIN WAR--RADCLIFFE

Important to Get Every Possible Man On Battle Front

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, April 26. — The importance of every entente allied country engaged in the war to get every possible man into position to support the battle front was emphasized by General Delma Radcliffe, chief director of military operations at the war office today in his first interview with newspapermen since he took over the position formerly held by Major General F. B. Maurice.

"The Germans are going on with this hammering process," he said, "and we have got to make up our minds that it is not this or next week, or next month, that this fight is going to a decision. We are going to fight the whole summer and in the end it is a question of who holds the last reserves."

"Reserves on the west front now are, I am happy to say, in the hands of one command, namely, in the hands of the commander-in-chief of the allied armies in France, General Foch, in whom everybody in both armies has complete confidence. He has so far employed only a small proportion of his reserves and that is a good augury for the future."

"I want to emphasize the fact that this is a long drawn out test of endurance, the endurance of nations. That is why it is so imperative for this country and all countries which are engaged to get hold of every man they possibly can to support the battle front. What is going to tell in the end is men."

In summing up the general battle situation the general said: "As regards the days preceding April 23 the German activities were devoted chiefly to the Lys sector between Givency and Meriville. All the details have been published and the net result was highly satisfactory for us. The Germans put in a lot of troops, suffered heavy losses and gained absolutely nothing."

"On the morning of April 24th, the enemy began a more serious effort opposite Amiens and yesterday he started a heavy attack on the Kemmel front. The enemy had made considerable progress. The latest information is still incomplete but there is no doubt that the Germans succeeded in occupying Kemmel hill, a sector involving both French and British troops. The net result in the Kemmel sector so far is that the Germans have gained about 20 yards on a front of about 1,200 yards. The gain is not large but involves very important ground and there is no question but that it is a very serious loss."

"There is nothing decisive about the loss of Kemmel Hill but it is a most important tactical feature."

KAISER SAYS GERMANY CANNOT BE SUBDUED
(By Associated Press)
Amsterdam, April 26. — "The people who wish to destroy us are digging their own graves," said Emperor William as quoted in an interview by Karl Roser which the Dusseldorf Anzeiger publishes.

The emperor, who was commenting on the large amount subscribed to the new war loan, said further:

"Our victories in the field and the victories of the Germans at home must make those over yonder realize that we cannot be subdued by arms and economic isolation."

WHAT MILITARY PRISONERS RECEIVE
(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 26. — Germans interned in this country are not being fed on the foot of the land while Americans are practicing self-denial, says a statement issued tonight by the food administration, but are being required to observe all the regulations of the administration. Their consumption of wheat is limited to one and a half pounds a week for each person. German military prisoners receive the regular garrison ration of the United States army as required by international law and American prisoners are supposed to receive the garrison ration of the German army.

WILL CONFER WITH Y WAR WORK COUNCIL
PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 26. — Christopher Mathewson, manager of the Cincinnati club of the National League, late today telegraphed to William M. Sloane, New York chairman of the war work council or the Y. M. C. A. that he "would be glad to confer" with members of the council regarding the proposal that Mr. Mathewson go to France to promote baseball among the American troops there.

Allied Forces Start Operations in Region of Mont Kemmel and Adjacent Territory — Battling in Face of Great Odds.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 26. — The allied arms today were taking the initiative on both the northern and southern ends of the battle front. This morning the British and French troops acting in conjunction began counter-operations in the region of Mount Kemmel and the neighboring territory which the Germans captured in yesterday's sanguinary struggle.

The aggressors at the time of the filing of this despatch had made some progress, but they were battling in the face of great odds, and heavy fighting was continuing with the enemy holding the advantageous high ground in strength. South of the Somme the allied forces launched a combined drive against the German positions between Hangard and the southern outskirts of Villers-Bretonneux. The latest reports recorded some progress but an intense conflict was in progress and the situation was nebulous.

Yesterday Villers-Bretonneux had been cleared of the enemy who over ran it Wednesday and the British by brilliant counter-attacks had retaken virtually all of the original positions. The main interest from the military point of view today centered in the northern contest where the Germans have been making such determined efforts to gain control of the chain of hills of which Kemmel is one and thereby threaten the allied positions to the north.

ILLINOIS TROOPS STARTS FOR CAMPS
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 26. — The first of the 5,579 Illinois selectmen, called to entrain for cantonments in the five day period beginning April 26, left their home stations today.

Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Ia., will receive 1,938 Illinois men. Negroes to the number of 916 from all sections of the state will be sent to Camp Grant, Rockford.

ALLISON DECLINES TO PERFORM HIS DUTIES
ROCKFORD, Ill., April 26. — Brent D. Allison, the conscientious objector, who bayoneted but not seriously wounded by his military guard today when he declined to perform his duties of cleaning up the ground Allison did not object to picking up waste papers, but balked when his guard told him to pick up cigar and cigarette ends. He was dressed at the hospital and later he was removed to the guard house.

BOND CAMPAIGN GIVEN IMPETUS FOR FINAL WEEK

Total Subscriptions of $2,035,990,200 Reported by Treasury

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 26. — Strong reinforcements came to the nation's third popular war credit today as a result of the celebration of Liberty Day with parades and demonstrations in practically every part of the country and the campaign now three weeks old was given new impetus for the final week which starts next Monday.

Total subscriptions of $2,035,990,200 were reported tonight by the treasury but this represented pledges received by banks and trust companies up to the opening of business today and today's business will not be tabulated entirely before tomorrow night. The loan period is 75 per cent over and only 67 per cent of the three billions sought have been subscribed. This is the consideration which prompted officials to send out word to local committees to exert every bit of energy to harvest more subscriptions. On the other hand it is recalled that when the second Liberty loan campaign was three fourths over only $1,199,000,000 subscriptions had been reported officials and more than $2,400,000,000 pledges rolled in during the last week.

In many communities today only banks were opened for business and these were kept busy all day taking applications for bonds from persons who came out to watch or participate in the Liberty day parades. Telegrams tonight told of a great number of small subscriptions, thousands from persons who heretofore have not been strong supporters of the government war loans.

President Wilson who proclaimed this Liberty day, spent the afternoon reviewing the long procession of 40,000 government clerks and other Washington citizens with a few soldiers which filed up Pennsylvania avenue more than three hours and half in passing.

Ruth Law in a light airplane, and military aviators in their heavy machines hummed over head, looping and diving and thousands of persons who were in Washington for war time work lined the avenue to cheer the marchers.

Senators and representatives turned out with flags and liberty loan banners and Secretary Daniels trudged at the head of a big contingent of navy officers and navy department employees.

The following tabulation of subscriptions given out tonight by the treasury does not include those received today:

District Subscriptions Per.
Minneapolis 119,617,696 113
St. Louis 140,153,590 109
Kansas City 120,482,100 92
Chicago 318,013,300 74
San Francisco 156,057,650 74
Dallas 158,393,450 72
Boston 166,862,150 66
Cleveland 189,730,200 63
Philadelphia 161,390,650 56
New York 514,230,700 56
Richmond 67,380,700 51
Atlanta 30,618,200 34

Reports of yesterday's business showed an addition of $134,000,000 to the total or a little more than the $120,000,000 daily average necessary to send the final figure above three billion.

Delaware is the thirteenth state to go over the top. It is the first eastern state to reach its goal. In the west the 100 per cent mark has been passed by Missouri, Washington, Utah, Oregon, Nevada, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Montana, North Dakota and Minnesota. In addition the parts of Indiana, Arkansas, Kentucky and Mississippi located in the St. Louis federal reserve district, and the part of Arizona located in the San Francisco district have exceeded their quotas.

The St. Louis district is claiming unofficially the record for obtaining the largest proportion of the population, as bond buyers have reported 533,539 subscribers.

In the Chicago district subscriptions are:

Illinois 520,000
Indiana 270,000
Iowa 491,000
Wisconsin 186,000
Michigan 278,000

The Liberty Bell was taken out of Independence Hall and carried in Philadelphia's Liberty Day parade.

"Women are doing wonderful work in the Atlanta district," said the headquarters review tonight. "They have obtained more than $1,000,000 subscriptions this week and are attempting to reach the $2,000,000 mark before tomorrow night."

Most people cannot understand the reasons for the war department plan of announcing casualties from overseas. The names are given without other details and cannot help but cause confusion. A case is at hand near at home, for yesterday's list of "killed in action" contained the name of Orville Miller. A Beards-ton young man of that name is with the army in France. He was taken over so recently that his parents cannot think he was really in the trenches, but the fear that he has met death must linger with them until definite information can come from abroad. This is but one instance of the thousands that will occur and to the average person it seems as if the plan which the military authorities think advisable will cause many an unnecessary heartache.

BETTER A PRIVATE THERE, THAN A COLONEL HERE.

One of the things that it is very hard for some of the soldiers who enlisted months ago to understand is why men more recently in the service than they have been taken overseas. It is a local fact that some young men who enlisted from Jacksonville last December are now with the Pershing army while others who entered the service at least six months before that time are still "in training" at southern camps.

Of course, a soldier's duty is "not to reason why, their's but to do or die," but nevertheless the unexplained system of transporting men is causing a good deal of under-the-breath grumbling. This spirit of dissatisfaction is really commendable for it means that the men feel just as a chaplain at Camp Logan recently put it, "I would rather go to France as a buck private with my regiment than to be a colonel on this side." This chaplain was offered a place as instructor in a special school at Fort Monroe which would undoubtedly lead to higher rank, but he much prefers to go to France as a lieutenant.

WORKING TOGETHER.

Later on somebody will be compelled to bring suit against the government to dissolve the "trusts" or combinations that it has promoted. The time was not so very long ago that the government was engaged in "trust busting" but nowadays with the government control of railroads other lines of business consolidations are the order of the day.

At Decatur it is proposed for one railroad shop to do the repair work for three roads which center there. This is but one of hundreds of instances where it is proposed to unify efforts in a way which will be likely to mean the accomplishment of the necessary work at a less than usual cost. As a matter of fact there are great differences between trusts and united or co-operative effort, but one of the results of the war will be certain to be a keener realization on the part of the people of the benefits of co-operative action.

PREPARING WATER ORDINANCE.

The public is pleased to know that City Attorney John J. Reeve is now preparing an ordinance for a bond issue election to raise funds to carry out the proposed water supply improvement plan. When the ordinance has been drawn which meets the approval of the city council and the joint committee there will be general discussion of the whole question. It has been several times stated that the plan contemplates simply the erection of a large impounding reservoir and filtration plant near the present south pumping station. The engineers' report shows the exact cost of the proposed work and the supply of water which would be available. The joint committee has taken the most business-like and accurate methods in arriving at data and after this next step of preparing an ordinance has been concluded, then the whole question will be ready for discussion—and then for action.

CITY REVENUES.

They are doing things in Lincoln that will make the Jacksonville city officials envious. Lincoln, like a great many other cities, is experiencing the difficulty of greatly increased expenses without any increase in revenue. The abandonment of saloons meant a much less revenue and up to this time no special steps have been taken to make good the deficiency. Now the commercial club and business men generally are getting behind a movement for certain special taxes which will increase the revenues $50,000. A bond issue of $35,000 is proposed to rebuild a part of the city's street car line and the campaign for more city funds is on in earnest.

CLARK PREFERS THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Champ Clark did not accept the post of senator tendered him by Governor Gardner of Missouri, and nobody expected he would. At any rate it was a substantial compliment that the governor paid the speaker of the house and will no doubt make their political friendship the closer. To offer the senatorship to some men and have it declined might prove an embarrassment in choosing a successor, but this will not be true in the Missouri case. Mr. Clark is wise in his generation for he holds a tremendously powerful position as speaker of the house and is practically certain of reelection to congress. At the end of the present senatorial term, well, nobody knows what might happen.

RUTH LAW RESURRECTED.

Ruth Law, who rumor said was executed as a spy by the U. S. a few weeks since, must have been resurrected for dispatches indicate that this intrepid aviatrix flew over Washington yesterday dropping Liberty Loan bombs. The story that she had been gathering information in the U. S. for the enemy and had died the death of a spy was widely circulated. It was very true that Miss Law had dropped from public view for a number of weeks and so the features of the story were the more readily believed.

The most unreasonable thing about her reported execution was its secrecy, for the uninitiated would think that government executions of spies would be broadly heralded as an example to others who might be in the service of the enemy. The story is all smashed to pieces by the reappearance of the aviatrix and everybody will be glad to know that this young woman, who had made such a remarkable record with aircraft and had been signally honored by her country, is not disgraced and instead is doing her "bit" to aid in the present patriotic drive.

RIPPLING RHYMS

DUMB ANIMALS.

The young colt kicks and capers, enchanted with its life; the cows don't read the papers which tell of deadly strife. I see the chesty horses, they paw and neigh and prance; they've heard not of the corpses and bleaching bones in France. How glad should be the critters which draw their loads all day, and take their oats and bits as an abundant pay; their backs may well be aching when evening rest hours come, but hearts are never breaking, among the critters dumb. I wonder what they're thinking, the horses in their stalls, the mules out yonder drinking, the cow that sadly bawls! Have they no sense of humor, no cogent line of thought, and have they caught no rumor of this sad world distraught? All men are in a lather when this or that side wins, but roosters never gather to read the bulletins. Men watch the fight out yonder, discuss it with a will; but porkers seem to ponder on nothing but their swill. The beasts have been around us since Adam made his churn, and yet when woes confound us they do not care a dern. Their minds have grown no broader since Noah lost his hat; they eat our grain and fodder and let it go at that. Unthinking and unseeing, their world is all their own, the poor old human being must bear his load alone.

A PLEASANT GREETING.

Mr. Williams, the eloquent speaker who was here with the war relics train, is an old time friend of Rev. W. E. Spoons. They both attended Lebanon University and the friendship between them was very warm. Mr. Williams saw his friend in the crowded audience at the courthouse and at once called to him. Mr. Williams was appointed postmaster at Chicago but Senator Lewis managed to prevent the confirmation. Mr. Williams was also a noted evangelist, especially in the south, until his throat gave way and he was obliged to give up that work.

DR. HARKER EXPLAINS WATER SUPPLY PLAN

A Summary Given of Reasons for Favoring the South Fork Impounding Proposition—Figures Given on Probable Cost.

Dr. J. R. Harker at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club at the Pacific hotel Friday gave a resume of the water supply investigation made under the direction of the council and citizens' water committee. Dr. Harker touched upon various important points embodied in the extensive report prepared by the engineering firm of Penock & Greeley. After reviewing various possible sources of supply he paid particular attention to the south fork of the Maitaville, where the engineers mentioned and the joint committee believe the most feasible site for the building of an impounding reservoir can be found. Some of the arguments and statements in support of the proposed water supply plan follow:

Dam Dimensions

(a) It is proposed to build a dam 600 feet long with a depth of 14 feet and a spillway 160 feet long, a reservoir with a capacity of over 400,000,000 gallons, and an adequate filter plant, the dam designed to supply daily through the dryest years, from one and one-half to two million gallons a day of pure water, fit for any purpose.

(b) The dam proposed is an earthen dam, with a clay puddled core extending into the impervious clay below, and merging intimately with the main body of the dam above. The spillway will be lined with concrete and will be adequate in size to take care of the largest floods likely to occur.

(c) The filter plant will be what is called a rapid sand filter, and will include (1) the aerating basins, (2) a mixing basin, (3) a coagulating and settling tanks, (4) the filter proper, (5) a filtered basin, and (6) a head house for pumps, chemical apparatus, office and laboratory. There will also be an apparatus for sterilizing the filtered water with chlorine.

(d) The whole system will be constructed under the plans and supervision of a very competent engineering firm, who have had large experience in work of this kind. The people of Jacksonville may be sure of a most complete and satisfactory water plant, built under the most careful scrutiny and supervision both as to plans and material and labor.

How Can it be Accomplished?

(a) It will be necessary to issue bonds to cover the cost of construction, carefully estimated at $75,100. The city has a taxable property of $4,400,000. The law allows an indebtedness of 5 per cent on the property taxation, so that it is possible for Jacksonville to have a total indebtedness of $220,000. The city will have on July 1 an indebtedness as follows: Bonded indebtedness...$ 42,000 Floating indebtedness...$1,000

Total...$123,000 Leaving a possible additional debt of $97,000. It will thus be seen that the city can easily afford a bond issue of $75,000 for the proposed water system, and still leave a margin of over $20,000 under the legal limit of indebtedness.

(b) The interest on the bonds, which could doubtless be floated readily at 5 per cent, would be only $3,755. This sum added to the estimated cost of operation, $15,100, would make a total annual expense of only $18,855. It is safe to estimate that the income of the water department would increase above its present earnings something like $10,000 a year, and thus provide a sinking fund of $4,000 or $5,000 a year to retire the bonds in fifteen or twenty years.

State Will Aid

(c) It is very fortunate for the immediate starting of this water system that the state of Illinois owns about sixty acres of land on which the proposed dam and reservoir are to be located. The state board of public welfare is very anxious that Jacksonville shall develop this water proposition, and they have agreed to lease the land to the city at a rental of $5 an acre, with a view to permanent possession of the land by the city. Some of the other owners of the lands that will be needed for reservoir and park purposes have already indicated a willingness to either sell or lease with a privilege of purchase, so that there will be no difficulty in obtaining the land. The actual transfer or purchase of the land is not a question that needs to be settled before the construction of the dam. The city can lease or purchase, or condemn the necessary land, or the damages can be equitably adjusted after the reservoir has shown how much land has been used or affected.

Preparing Ordinance

(d) The city attorney, J. J. Reeve, is now preparing an ordinance for a bond issue for the dam and spillway and filter plant. He is following the line of similar bond ordinances that have been approved by the most expert bond attorneys in the country. It is also his plan to submit the ordinance to the Morgan County Bar association. As soon as it is ready the commissioners and the citizens' committee will consider it carefully, and then submit it for the approval of the citizens at the polls.

Public mention should be made of the fact that the city commissioners have co-operated very fully and heartily with the citizens' committee in all the plans for an adequate water supply. Every action that has been taken has had unanimous approval, and the commissioners have requested the citizens' committee to share equally with them in all the plans until the entire new system is fully completed. The commissioners and the committee are doing everything possible to meet the wishes of the entire body of citizens, and to give Jacksonville one of the best water systems in the state.

The Illinois state water survey, the state geological survey and the state bureau of health have contributed greatly to the solution of the problem for the city, and these boards expect to continue their assistance until the whole project is completed.

In Conclusion

The city of Jacksonville now has the opportunity of its history. We have suffered long and deeply for lack of water. Every interest of the city, both personal and municipal, has suffered. Now we have an easy and feasible and sure remedy for all our troubles. When the bond ordinance is presented to the people, it should be fully discussed and understood, and should be passed at the polls by a practically unanimous vote. Every citizen, every organization, every interest, should make it the one business of the spring of 1918 to put this plan across.

MISS ARMSTRONG HEARD IN RECITAL

"Silas Marner" Given an Especially Artistic Interpretation.

The interpretation of George Eliot's story, "Silas Marner," given by Miss Marcelline Armstrong at Illinois Woman's college Thursday night was of special merit. The excerpts were especially well unified and developed, and none of the atmosphere of the novel was lost. It was a difficult task to portray fourteen characters but Miss Armstrong measured fully up to the requirements in her delineation and left nothing to be desired.

The principal interest attached to the character of Silas Marner and the portrayal was entirely true to the picture drawn by George Eliot. Silas Marner changed from a miser to a loving father and this transition as depicted by Miss Armstrong was natural and well drawn. Keen character insight and special dramatic ability were shown in the characterization of Dunstan Cass, who was usually in a drunken, gloomy mood. The characters of the women were portrayed with equal force and sympathy. As a climax came the scene at Rainbow tavern. It was an intense character picture very difficult of execution, but in all the parts Miss Armstrong displayed her strength and the characterization of Silas Marner at this time was especially fine. It was through a recital program which the audience followed with intense interest and at the same time which gave most abundant proof of Miss Armstrong's unusual talent and training. Few recital programs of such excellence have been given in Jacksonville in recent years.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUBS

Women of Twentieth District Convened Friday For Two Days Session—Mrs. Ira Couch Wood of Chicago Addressed Delegates.

The annual meeting of the federation of Woman's clubs of the Twentieth congressional district opened Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

After a brief business session the members of the executive board who have arrangements for the meeting in charge had luncheon at the Peacock Inn.

Thirty-six were present at the luncheon and there were present as guests, Mayor H. J. Rodgers, superintendent of schools H. A. Perrin, and Rev. R. B. Wilson. The following members of the board were present: Mesdames Glandon, Hess, Graham, Pittsfield; L. H. Skiles, Virginia; T. K. Condit, T. C. Schweer, Beards-ton; C. E. Smoot, Petersburg; Ben Lorton, A. L. Adams, T. J. Pinner, Miller, Weir, Herbert Capps and Miss S. M. Fairbank, Jacksonville.

It was voted to send flowers to Mrs. Roy Bruening of Havana and her sister Miss Jessie Rottger who are both ill at Passavant hospital. Mrs. Bruening is a member of the board.

Interesting features of the day were two addresses by Mrs. Ira Couch Wood of Chicago, director of the Elizabeth McCormick memorial fund and chairman of the state child welfare movement.

To Organize Every County. It is the purpose of the movement to establish organizations in every county in the state to look after the welfare of the babies. Mrs. Wood talked to members of the executive committee immediately following the luncheon.

Friday evening she again talked at Central Christian church illustrating her talk with moving pictures. Mrs. Wood is a pleasing speaker and her addresses contained much of interest to her hearers.

"It is the purpose," the speaker said, "of the National and State Welfare workers to save during the coming twelve months 100,000 babies in the state of Illinois."

"In Illinois a baby is in more danger than a soldier on the western front in France. One hundred and eleven babies die in Illinois out of every 1,000. In New York where conditions are said to be extremely bad only 88 out of every 1,000 died."

Birth Registration Important

Mrs. Wood's lecture Friday evening was illustrated with stereoscopic slides. Among other things shown was the troubles of a young man whose parents had failed to have his birth registered. He was sent home from school because he had no birth certificate. Later he was unable to vote because of this and to cap the climax he was refused a marriage license for the same reason.

In connection with this reel of views Mrs. Wood emphasized the necessity of having the births of all children registered. One illustration the speaker used was that of a young woman who had fallen heir to a large estate in Indiana.

There was much trouble proving that she was the legal heir. Finally an old man in the community in which she was born said he remembered the date of her birth. When asked for his proof he said that a fine calf had been born in the neighborhood the same day and that it had been registered. If that could be found it would give the date of the young woman's birth. This was investigated and in that manner her right to the estate was proven.

Many other things of like nature were brought out by the speaker. It is the purpose to take up systematically the work of looking after the welfare of babies and many ideas along this line have been developed in England and France since the outbreak of the great war. These will be embodied in the work in this country. The result is not only expected to save the lives of many babies but also to make them healthier and better babies, thus producing men and women of a higher type.

VARIETY OF NAMES.

At the Dunlap hotel yesterday the names of Green, Brown and White appeared on the register. Major Vickery who has been standing behind a hotel counter for nearly forty years said that in all his long experience he had never before remembered of seeing the names in rotation on the register. Just above the name of Green was that of Beck, which would not have taken much of a chance to make it Black and it would have completed the quartet.

INSTITUTION IDEALSGIVEN IN OUTLINE

Supt. Bowen Tells What Department of Public Welfare Hopes to Accomplish—Relations Between Local Institutions Explained.

In a statement issued yesterday addressed particularly to the people of Jacksonville, J. L. Bowen, of the department of public welfare and superintendent of charities, explains the department's purpose with reference to the three state institutions located here. For more than a year past patient labor from Jacksonville state hospital has been used to advantage at the two state institutions.

Because of the consolidation of certain working departments in the three institutions, there has been the feeling in some quarters that the School for the Deaf and the School for the Blind as educational institutions might receive some injury by too close a classification with the hospital for the insane. Journals published by the deaf have criticized the methods used as calculated to lessen the education given to children.

Mr. Bowen was no doubt prompted by these criticisms to make a statement at this time of what has been done thru the use of patient labor and to indicate in this statement the ideals of service that the department has. Mr. Bowen's very interesting statement is as follows:

The three state institutions located in your city are attracting attention all over the country on account of the unusual uses to which patient labor from the State hospital has been put and certain proposed improvements in the courses of study at the State schools.

The people of Jacksonville have always maintained a broad and liberal attitude towards these institutions and have taken an exceptional interest in their welfare entirely apart from any selfish considerations which their presence in your city might serve.

It has occurred to me therefore that they would be interested in a brief statement of the purposes of the Department of Public Welfare and of the three institutions themselves in their co-operative undertakings.

Plants in Need of Repair. The Department was confronted with this situation. Both the plants of the Schools for Blind and Deaf were run down and in great need of repair. Very limited amounts of money had been set aside by the legislature for this purpose and at the present high prices of labor and material and the extraordinary demands of the times for both, we felt that it was up to us to use our own resources to the very highest degree.

At these three institutions were three farm and dairy units including the animals, the buildings, equipment and employees. At the Blind the outbuildings were located close to the dormitory and school houses; so close, in fact as to represent a sanitary and fire hazard. A large tract of land at this school was not in cultivation.

It occurred to the Department that these three units might just as well be consolidated, with economy to the state and without touching the instruction offered by either school.

At the State hospital for the insane excellent progress was being made in employment of patients, and there was a demand for more opportunity.

A System of Re-Education. One of the first policies laid down by the Department provided for introducing into every state hospital the most modern methods of employing patients and of teaching them to become helpful to themselves and to the state—a system embraced in the term "re-education," which means exactly what it says.

Employment of mentally afflicted is recognized today as the best and most constructive treatment, both in theory and in practice. Occupation for the insane produces good results, it soothes the irritation and distress of the patient, contributes something towards the expenses of the institution, lessens untidiness, disorder, destruction, induces sleep and rest at night, lightens the duties of nurses and attendants and in a score of ways adds to the physical, mental and moral improvement of the patient and the employees.

Remarkable results in a very short time have been noted in all our state hospitals. Notwithstanding these institutions are being operated now with new and inexperienced medical men and with short forces of nurses and attendants, because the army and navy have taken the old, the cooperation and help of patients have been so successful that the emergency is being met and the cost of administration is being held very close to the appropriations allowed by the last general assembly; at the same time there is continuous improvement in the service.

In Jacksonville what has been done by patient labor at the School for the Blind is apparent. It is proposed to do much the same thing at the School for the Deaf.

Criticism Answered by Facts. The three institutions have taken under cultivation large tracts of additional land without a cent of extra expense to the state. It has been said that at the School for the Deaf, patients have deprived some of the children of opportunity to learn farming and gardening. The school closes in June and opens again in September, the period of the year when crops are produced, consequently this criticism is answered by facts. The school has never pretended to teach agriculture and its allied subjects. It is the purpose of the Department, however, to add such a course if the number of pupils desiring it is large enough to warrant it. Such a course keeping the school open all summer.

It is proposed to make these two educational institutions strictly educational. To develop the mental, moral and physical welfare of the blind and deaf is the ideal towards which this Department is aiming. To give them every opportunity to learn that which will make them independent when they leave school is the first consideration. That there may be the largest possible portion of the funds left to this purpose, and that patients in the state hospital may have all opportunity to employ themselves to the betterment of their condition, we are attempting to coordinate the farm, garden, dairy and manual work of the three institutions under central supervision. It is not designed to take anything from the children but rather to make it possible to give them more of that which is better and more profitable to their future that we have entered upon the present campaign.

Hope to Improve Curriculum. It is the Department's hope to improve the curriculum of each school and to add to its equipment the most modern apparatus. To this end Mr. Woolston of the School for the Blind has been sent on a tour of inspection of the eastern institutions for the instruction of the Blind. Investigation into the methods of teaching both blind and deaf is being made with a view to adding to our state schools anything they may lack.

It is unnecessary to enter further into details, because, for the most part, they are understood by Jacksonville people and very generally approved by them as methods of public economy, institutional efficiency, war emergency and general improvement in conditions of state wards. We believe that the state institutions should be administered and developed during this period, so that they shall cost the public the smallest possible sum, thereby releasing to war measures, the greatest possible amount of the public's funds.

Such a policy, when it is coupled up with so many other good purposes and, I may say, when it is demonstrating itself by results, is entitled to the support and approbation which it is receiving on every hand.

A Purposeful Formula

Senreco's formula is not "just a little of this and a little of that."

It was devised with a definite object in view.

The object was to produce a tooth paste possessing medicinal as well as cleansing properties—a real cleanser that could be depended upon to remove tartar and keep mouth and gums healthy.

The ideal defined, our laboratories set about to determine the proper combination to produce it. Senreco is the result. It has been tried, tested and pronounced good by hundreds of the profession. Correspondents Have Thrilling Experiences activities and responsibilities of our service have steadily increased, is a source of great pride to know that those upon whom the burden has fallen have met their obligations with a measure of faithfulness and intelligence for which the management is deeply grateful. By direction of the board of the directors and as partial recognition of the efficiency of the staff, the life of each employee in the Associated Press has been insured for the benefit of his heirs or dependants in the sum of $1,000. Because of the greater risk involved, established companies will not accept upon the lives of our men in foreign service, but the board has itself assumed liability on their behalf.

"While the growth in membership was unusually large during the last year the members should not mistake the policy as to growth. Unlike the privately owned and profit-making news agencies, we do not traffic in news. We welcome only such additions to membership as strengthen the news-gathering facilities of this body. At the close of the year there were 636 evening papers; 291 morning newspapers and 61 Sunday morning newspapers, or a total of 1,088 receiving the service. These newspapers, from the smallest, which receives a 500 word daily telegraph service, to the largest, which receives upwards of 50,000 words daily shows a net increase in membership in the year 1917 of 133, of which 96 are evening, 34 morning and 9 Sunday newspapers.

"In 1917 there was a great expansion in the Morse leased wire service, more than 2,000 miles additional of wire being used, making the leased wire system of the organization over 57,000 miles in length and more than twice the mileage of all other press associations combined receiving the report on these leased wires, which would stretch more than twice around the world, are 308 evening newspapers, 289 morning newspapers and 48 Sunday morning newspapers. While there was a rapid extension of the leased wire service, the increase in the number of papers receiving pony services smaller than the Morse leased wire, was still greater, showing a growth of 87 over the preceding year.

"With the extension of the Morse service, it was necessary to employ additional Morse operators. The number of operators employed at present is 660, representing an increase of 59 over the number employed for the preceding year. The body of operators who copy the report in every State in the Union, with a single exception is greater than the combined operating force of all other press associations of the world. Regardless of the loss of trained men and the fact that one fourth of its personnel has been in the service less than one year, the delivery of the report has not been interrupted and no member wishing a leased wire has been without service owing to the shortage of operators.

The total of assessments charged against members of The Associated Press from Jan. 1, 1900 to Dec. 31, 1917, was $47,731,937. Of this amount the treasurer was unable to collect $4,469, a little less than one hundredth of one per cent.

CARDUI A SPLENDID TONIC

For Women, Says Hixson Lady Who Took This Medicine On Her Doctor's Advice

Hixson, Tenn., Mrs. J. B. Dadd, of this place, makes the following statement regarding her experience with Cardui: I was... I suffered with a pain in my left side; could not sleep at night for this pain—always in the left side. My feet and legs were terribly swollen. I was almost in bed.

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me, and after my baby came I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there. I at first let it go, but I began to get weak and in a run down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did. The last Cardui I took made me much better, and, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return to this trouble. I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic.

If you feel weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It must be a good medicine for women, for many thousands have voluntarily told, just as Mrs. Dadd did, of the good it has done them. Ask some lady friend who has tried Cardui. She will tell you how it helped her. Then get a bottle from your nearest druggist.—Adv.

CHICAGO GIVES OPINION

Chicago, April 26.—An opinion requested by the state public utilities commission was given out by Attorney-General Brundage today. OPEN CEREMONIAL AT CENTENARY CHURCH

Queens of Avalon and the U. O. C. Held Public Ceremonial Friday Evening—Event Proved Interesting and Was Witnessed By Large Audience.

The first annual open ceremonial of the Queens of Avalon and the U. O. C. of Centenary church school was held in the Sunday school rooms of the church Friday evening at eight o'clock.

The program was given in costume and each character part well portrayed before the large audience present. The rooms were well filled by members of the church and friends.

Some time ago the ritual work given last night by the two societies of the Sunday school was written by Rev. G. W. Flage, former pastor of the church. Later this was arranged and made into degrees by Mr. John Kearns. Much credit for the success of the first ceremonial is due Mr. Kearns for his work in arranging the parts and the music for the presentation.

In the first part of the program, which was the coronation of the Queen of Avalon, Miss Esther Wetzel was crowned queen. The success of this part of the program was largely due to the direction of the teacher of the class, Mrs. Claude Veal and to the hearty cooperation and ability of all those taking part, the young ladies seeming to thoroughly enter into the spirit of the occasion.

The second part of the program was taken up by the U. O. C.'s the boys' organization taught by Miss Myrtle Sheppard. In this initiation work from the first and second degrees was conferred upon P. C. Carren. The setting of the scene in this part of the program was that of an old Jewish tabernacle and all wore in elaborate costumes, as were in the first part of the program.

A word of recognition of the services of Harry Barnes is here in order. Mr. Barnes, who is president of the U. O. C.'s, expects to leave Tuesday morning for Camp Dix with the Morgan county increment for that campaign. Mr. Barnes will be greatly missed as he is a worker of ability and well liked by all. LIBERTY DAY OBSERVED AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Liberty Program Given Included Addresses by Capt. J. M. Swales and Prof. J. H. Rayhill, War Veterans.

Liberty day was observed at Illinois college Friday morning in appropriate way with a patriotic program. Dr. Rummelkamp invited Capt. J. M. Swales and Prof. J. H. Rayhill, veterans of the war, to give addresses. Capt. Swales, who made a more extended address, referred in an eloquent way to the proud history of Illinois college with the war of 1861-65. In his admirable address Capt. Swales said:

Mr. President and Students of Illinois College: I deem it quite an honor to be invited to address you on this occasion and an additional honor to be associated with Dr. Rummelkamp as a member of the Morgan county Monument Association to erect a lasting memorial to commemorate the heroism of those who marched to glory and to brave during the tragic days of the early Sixties, many of whom graduated from this grand old institution, and have left their footprints on the sands of time, and records of heroic valor that grow brighter with the on-coming years. Illinois College gave to the state and the nation the great war governor, Richard Yates, who steered the old Ship of State through crimson billows of war into the harbor of peace and prosperity. His eloquence was a bugle call to the patriotism of the young men of the prairie state who answered to the number of more than a quarter of a million. Forty years later, to an hour and a day, Richard Yates, Jr., occupied the gubernatorial chair once so ably and patriotically filled by the illustrious father, both of whom graduated from this institution. Throughout the land in those history making days the name of the great war governor was a household word all over the state and nation. He it was whose good right hand signed the commission of the greatest warrior the world had ever produced up to that time, Ulysses S. Grant, who had supreme command of all the armies of the Union and at the close of the crimson drama received the sword of the rebel chieftain at Appomattox, where the banners of the Lost Cause were forever furled, April 9, 1865.

Illustrious Illinois Soldiers He signed the commissions of many other illustrious Illinois soldiers, among whom may be mentioned the "Black Eagle" of Southern Illinois, Major General John A. Logan of blessed memory, the man who won the greatest battle of the Atlanta campaign and made the March to the Sea a possibility, and ultimate victory sure. Illinois furnished the great war president, Abraham Lincoln, the commander-in-chief of all our armies, Richard Yates, the peace-loving war governor, and 256,395 volunteers in the mighty crusade for human liberty during the darkest days in the history of our republic, and in all that mighty struggle young men from Illinois College bore a gallant part, just as they are doing today, preserving and defending that which we handed down to them from the blood-stained fields of the civil war.

Comrade Rayhill and myself did "our bit" in those trying times, and speaking for myself, I only regret that nearly four score years keep me from taking an active, physical part in making the world safe for universal freedom, and a democracy that shall cover the earth as even the waters cover the great deep. I served four years in the Tenth Illinois Infantry, and enlisted in Jacksonville. Was in and took part in many of the great campaigns in the field, and partook of Southern hospitality in the notorious prison pen at Andersonville, Georgia, for the better part of a year, and know what it was to suffer from hunger and starvation in an open stockade where 15,000 loyal men perished rather than government of the people, for the people, and by the people, should perish from the earth.

School is Bulwark of Nation I am proud to be a citizen of "Classic Jacksonville and Historic Morgan county," which can point with pride to its many schools, churches, and genuine culture and good citizenship, mainly due to the influence of the educational advantages the young enjoy today. The school is our safety valve, the bulwark of the nation and the beacon light set upon a hill to lead us all that is best in human life, both here and hereafter. The great regret of my life has been that my early education was sadly neglected. As a matter of fact six months would cover about all my school experience, and what little knowledge I may have gained was gathered from a force of necessity along the rugged pathway of life. This generation knows but little of the pioneer days at the first half of the last century and its lack of educational advantages. So I wonder if the young men and women of this day appreciate the advantages they enjoy, compared to the times when school houses were few and far between, as they were when I was a boy. If they do not, like myself, they will regret the mistake when it will be too late to remedy it.

Many glorious memories cluster around old Illinois College. The names of Beecher, Turner, Sturtevant, and others of the earlier teachers are dear to those who have inherited their precious memory of glorious work performed in the pioneer days of this great temple of learning which will be an enduring monument to their work in building this institution up to its present high standard of excellence in making it one of the greatest of its kind west of the Alleghany mountains. May it long endure, and may those who go out from its sacred walls as graduates in the future honor themselves, and at the same time reflect honor on an institution which has fitted them to make their way in life, and do not forget that in all the walks of life, and wherever fate may cast your lot, that true nobility is not above the dignity of honest toil.

A Prophecy Fulfilled In conclusion, Mr. President and students, I desire to return sincere thanks for this honoring me with your attention on this occasion with the hope that what I have said may be of some value as coming from one who gave four of the best years of his life to help make all these things possible, and to keep Old Glory in the sky with a united republic to meet the great crisis now confronting the nation and the civilization of the war-stricken world. And it is a consolation to the comparatively few remaining survivors of the rapidly vanishing army to realize the words of the immortal Lincoln when he said during the dark days of the civil war, "The mystic chords of memory, stretching from every battle field, to every patriotic heart and hearthstone, over all this broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union when touched, as they surely will be, by the better angels of our nature." That prophecy has been fulfilled, for the sons of the blue and the grey are today touching elbows as they march under the shining folds of the Starry Banner to take their place in the far flung battle line over there, and that they will bring it back without the loss of a single star, and with new luster added to its brilliancy, goes without saying, for in the bright lexicon of Young America there can be no such word as fail.

And Make Decoration Day a Success.

The citizens of Jacksonville and the local Grand Army post propose to make Decoration Day an event long to be remembered this centennial year. The great war calls for patriotic endeavor along unusual lines and the old soldiers will act in conjunction with the people in making the day an event of patriotic inspiration to every man and woman in the city and county in whose veins runs good, red American blood. This is the time to show what kind of stuff we are made of, and where we stand in the present world crisis. There is no middle ground. United we stand, divided we fall. The Kaiser in his efforts to destroy the world, on this sacred day let us not forget our honored dead, nor yet the living soldiers over there who are keeping the Prussian Wolf from our homes in this land of the free.

We must give, give, and give without ceasing, and show by our actions that those of us who are unable to go over the top are standing as a living wall of patriotism behind those who do scale the ramparts of the most ruthless foe that ever waged war's desolation since time began. So let's prepare to make Decoration Day not only a day for memory and for tears, but also a day for patriotic inspiration—a union of hearts and hands in the cause of God, our country and the flag handed down from those whose bloody feet stained the snows at Valley Forge and the thousands slain on the battlefields of the civil war. The war angels are sounding the advance. There is no time to retreat. It's onward to victory or disastrous humiliation and defeat and to be led white paying war indemnities as will be demanded by the crowned despot who is leading the Prussian horde in the world slaughter today. It is time to hang together lest we be hanged separately. Ben Franklin said when the nation was in its swaddling clothes, "A long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether will crown our arms with victory and the world made safe for democracy and human freedom."

Think of all this and help make the coming Decoration Day the most eventful and successful of all others that have passed into history. J. M. Swales.

GIRL DIED BEFORE PARENTS REACHED HER

Miss Marguerite Hughes, Granddaughter of Mrs. M. J. Wyckoff, Succumbed After Sudden Attack of Appendicitis—Student at Iowa College.

Jacksonville friends of Mrs. M. Wyckoff's granddaughter, Miss Hughes, have learned with sincere regret of the sudden death of Mrs. Wyckoff's granddaughter, Miss Margaret Hughes, which occurred at Iowa City as a result of an attack of appendicitis. Miss Hughes, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hughes of Council Bluffs, was attending school at Iowa City and the appendicitis attack was so sudden that she was operated on and died before her parents were able to reach Iowa City. The Council Bluffs Nonpareil gives the following facts about the young lady's sudden death:

"Miss Margaret Hughes, daughter of J. J. Hughes, 118 Fifth avenue, died Wednesday night at Iowa City from a sudden attack of acute appendicitis. She was in this city a few days ago and at the time complained of a slight pain in her side. Miss Hughes had not had the slightest sickness before and this was the first indication of such.

"It is a complete surprise to everyone and her parents did not know of her condition. Mrs. Hughes received a telephone call Wednesday afternoon saying that her daughter must be operated on immediately. Mrs. Hughes was unable to reach Iowa City until 11 o'clock Wednesday evening. Margaret had died three hours previous as a result of the operation. Mr. Hughes was at that time in Excelsior Springs and left for Iowa City, reaching there at 10 o'clock Thursday.

"Miss Hughes graduated from the local high school last year and was attending school at Iowa City. She was very popular in all branches of high school activities. She was the youngest student in Iowa City and stood first in her class. She was a member of the Delta Gamma sorority and as popular and well liked there as she was here.

"Besides her parents, she leaves five sisters and two brothers to mourn her death. They are Geraldine, Martha, Ruth Beatrice, Mary Elizabeth, Helen, John and Lyman. Miss Hughes was the oldest child, being 17 years of age."

It was a pitching duel between Alexander and May the latter being unable to go the route. Alexander allowed only two hits both of which were made by Roger Hornsby. AT MATT STAR POST G. A. R.

Last evening at the regular meeting of Matt Starr Post G. A. R., an invitation from Rev. W. W. Theobald was read inviting the post to Brooklyn church memorial day, but as an invitation to Grace church had already been accepted the invitation was declined and a vote of thanks was tendered the reverend gentleman for his courtesy.

An invitation to attend Northminster church in a body Sunday at 3:00 p. m. to participate in a patriotic service was read and formally accepted the post to meet at the hall at 2:30 p. m.

It was announced that a movement is on foot to make decoration day one of unusual interest and one of the greatest events in many years. This matter is being taken up and put forward by a number of citizens and the post was invited to participate.

One feature is a monster automobile parade and the members of the post will be guests of honor.

CONGREGATIONALISTS IN FRATERNAL MEETING

Members and Congregation Gathered as Guests of Brotherhood—Supper Followed By Program—Optimistic View Taken of Future of Church.

Surely anyone at the Congregational church last evening would say that the organization is taking a new lease of life. Every body belonging to the church and congregation who could be there had turned out and all were in the best of humor determined to make the occasion one long to be remembered. It was certainly a new departure for the brotherhood of the church had undertaken to provide supper for all who would come and they most certainly came. The supper was served cafeteria style and was of good quality and ample in quantity giving the best of satisfaction to all. The lecture room was packed and the good natured congregation overflowed into the main body of the church to eat and all had plenty.

After all had sufficient President Miller Weir called the people to order to enjoy a formal program.

The first to speak was the pastor who told of his plans and expectations for the future without any undue flourish of trumpets or boastful manner the worthy gentleman told how he hoped to get every element in the church to work, the young and the middle aged, the old and all others. His remarks were timely and to the point and he was heard with profound interest.

Mr. Weir spoke for the brotherhood. He dwelt on the grand history of the church during its 85 years existence. He told of the noble heroes who bore the burden and heat of the day and what a strong foundation was laid. He paid a fitting tribute to them and their work but added that today their methods would not do. It is time to seek new ways and means to accomplish the work the church should do and he hoped the church was on the eve of a career of great usefulness.

For the school Ebenezer Spink, superintendent, spoke pledging his best assistance and that of the school in the work to be done. He assured the pastor that the school might be depended on at all times.

Mrs. Irvin Potter then favored the audience with three solos most beautifully and capably rendered eliciting hearty applause.

Miss Maria Fairbank spoke for the ladies of the church. She highly complimented the supper and assured the men that the ladies were always ready to be invited to a similar affair. The home and foreign missionary societies were going on with their work the missionary pastor must by all means be kept in the field. The ladies aid society organized by Mrs. George E. Myers, who fortunately was present, was doing good work. The parsonage repairs being made showed that the ladies knew how to attend to business. The Red Cross unit organized by Mrs. George W. Brown meets Tuesday and does a lot of good. The ladies will be stimulated by the example of the men to do great things.

The friends from Joy Prairie would have been present had the roads permitted.

The pastor then led in a number of group songs. The gentleman has a good voice and knows how to lead. The selections were "Keep the Home Fires Burning," "Give Me Your Smile," "There's a Long, Long Trail," and "Over There." The audience joined in the choruses and singing was inspiring.

The program closed with a stanza of "God Bless Our Splendid Men," to the tune of "America," and a prayer and benediction by the pastor ended the exercises.

H. L. Doane was general chairman of the occasion and he and the committees already published did their work in a manner leaving nothing to be desired.

Harmony Lodge No. 3 A. F. & A. M. will hold a special meeting this evening at 6:30 o'clock for work. Visiting brethren welcome.

THE WARY RELIC TRAIN

The liberty loan war relic train was open to the public at Chapel Field, morning and evening, Friday, morning and evening, and was at Winchester, where a two hour program was carried out before an audience of 2,000 people. Friday night at Mt. Sterling two audiences assembled one filling the court house and the other the opera house nearby. While the soldiers were giving their demonstration of the use of arms at the court house, Mr. F. Dunlap, who accompanied the train from Jacksonville, was pressed into service by Dixon Williams as a speaker.

For forty-five minutes Mr. Dunlap discussed the war situation and the part that America must play if the conflict to save democracy is effective. He paid special tribute to the soldiers who go to the front to offer the lives in battle, but indicated clearly that there are important duties for the "army in the rear." After Mr. Dunlap's address the soldier speakers came from the court house to the opera house for their part of the program.

"WHY PAY MORE?"

Why pay more than 22 1/2¢ for gasoline? Why use an inferior oil when you can get "EUREKA", the best on the market for the same and even less money? Why not buy your oils and gasoline where you can save money, and invest that saving in Liberty Bonds and by so doing help win the war?

LEFOUT ANDREWS ACCEPTED FOR SERVICE

F. J. Andrews received a telegram yesterday from his son, LeFout Andrews, stating that he had passed the physical examination at Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., and had been accepted for service in the infantry. Young Andrews, who turned twenty-one just a few months ago, has made three attempts to enter the service. In one department in which he offered his services there was no opening at the time. In examination for another department he was three pounds under weight, and his relatives and friends here know how delighted he was to send the telegram home stating that he had been accepted. Like some other young men entering the service, Andrews is hoping for an early chance to get with the troops in France.

A NEW CORPORATION.

H. E. Frye & Co., who have for some years conducted a wholesale poultry and egg business on North Main, carrying also a stock of groceries for wholesale trade, have, thru their attorney, J. Marshall Miller, applied for articles of incorporation with a capital stock of $30,000. It is the desire of the house to do a much larger business than at present and Mr. Frye sees the opportunity to accomplish this. Mr. Miller was not able to mention the list of stockholders yesterday but it is understood that they will be strong and capable men.

The government is trying to do away with icing refrigerator cars and hopes to accomplish this, thereby saving freight hauling and ice. To this end the new corporation will have a cold storage plant and it is thought to be possible to ship dressed poultry and eggs without ice in the cars. It may be they will be stopped enroute and cooled in some manner but at any rate the dealers will have to have cold storage plants. Eggs, butter, poultry and groceries will be the chief products handled by the company.

COLORED MEN LEAVE ON TUESDAY'S HUMMER.

Arrangements have been completed by the Morgan county local board for the sending of six soldiers of African descent to Camp Grant, Rockford, and fifty one white men to Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J. The colored soldiers will leave at 1:32 a. m. April 30, over the Alton Hummer with Bea Pyles as the orderly in charge and Frank Wafful as his assistant. The fifty one men will entrain at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, April 30, over the Wabash, in charge of Frank Robinson as chief orderly and Picken Brewer, chief assistant. As indicated, this train will leave Jacksonville at 8:30 and at 8:30 the men will be transferred to a special train bearing troops from Edwardsville, Madison, Venice and a number of other cities in southern Illinois. The schedule calls for arrival of the train at Fort Wayne, Ind., at 6 o'clock p. m. and there the men will be transferred to pullmans, which they will occupy for the remainder of the journey. They are scheduled to reach Camp Dix at 6:30 o'clock p. m. Wednesday.

Honor Colored Soldiers Monday Night.

The local board has arranged for patriotic meetings in honor of these soldiers which promise to be of very great interest. The gathering especially in honor of the colored soldiers will be held Monday night, April 29, at 8 o'clock at the court house. Rev. L. E. Fisher will offer prayer and then will follow an address by Rev. H. H. DeWitt. An explanation of the army insurance law will be given by Hugh P. Green and then Rev. Enos Scruggs will make an address. He will be followed by Miller Weir, president of the exemption board, who will use as a theme "The Obligation of American Citizens of African Descent to the U. S." This will be one of a notable series of addresses and additional interest will be given the occasion by the fact that Mrs. Helen Brown Read has offered to sing and will appear on the program with several vocal solos. Miss Edith Robinson will be her accompanist. Patriotic interest will be increased by the presence of a delegation representing Matt Starr post, G. A. R.

Following the court house meeting the company will adjourn to the Second Baptist church, of which Rev. Mr. DeWitt is pastor, where a supper will be served in honor of the soldiers. Later on relatives and friends will doubtless accompany the men to Chicago, Alton train up until the time of their departure they will be under the command of Mr. Weir.

Farewell to Fifty One Tuesday a. m.

The meeting for the other body of soldiers will be held at the court house at 7 a. m. Tuesday, April 30. The opening prayer will be offered by Rev. Father Formaz and then an address will be given by Rev. M. L. Pontius. Mr. Carl E. Hag will give a brief address on hygiene, especially as related to trench warfare, and the charge to the men on behalf of the local board will be by W. D. Doying. A parade will form at 8 o'clock to move from the court house to the Wabash station. Carl H. Weber, assisted by Howard Wannamaker, as deputy sheriff, will have general charge of this part of the program. Members of Matt Starr post, G. A. R., will serve as an escort. All the men are to assemble at the office of the local board at 3 p. m. Monday for a final record and will assemble at the court house Tuesday morning at the hour indicated. The colored soldiers will also report to the exemption board of office at 3 p. m. Monday and will assemble at the court house at 8 p. m. Monday. This program includes practically all the details for the leaving of the troops and it has been the evident intention of the local board to make the two patriotic gatherings of a fitting and impressive kind.

WAR AID SOCIETY JACKSONVILLE STATE HOSPITAL

The War Aid society of the Jacksonville "state hospital is actively and enthusiastically at work for the great cause of whipping the kaiser. Thursday evening they had a dance in the chapel and it was a grand success. About fifty couples were on the floor and Mr. Huston of the State School for the Blind sang very acceptably "When the Boys Come Marching Home." Something over $20 was realized and a good time enjoyed. Other entertainments are planned for the near future and both officers and employees are enthusiastic in the work of the society and it will be heard from frequently.
